A GOOD JUDGE.

You can't find a better judge of something good to eat than a hearty, lively, growing boy. That wonderful appetite of his craves wholesome, healthful food, and lots of it. He knows what is good. Once he tastes Monarch goods he takes a firm stand for it ever afterward, yes, even after he has arrived at man's estate. Why shouldn't he? Monarch goods are the most appetizing and nutritious articles of food produced. Our American Beauty flour is something we are proud of—made strictly from selected wheat, and guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction. Give our goods a trial for October, and see the difference in your table fare.

Monday Dr. Tabor wired nearly all the towns in South Texas as to their attitude if he raised the quarantine against San Antonio. All except one said the quarantine would be made tighter if it was done. Hallettsville said she would raise her quarantine if the state did. New Orleans said she would quarantine the whole state.—Gonzales Inquirer.

The following hymeneal writup from a Mississippi newspaper has been adopted by the Kansas school of journalism as a perfect model of its kind of composition:

Would that our pen had been plucked from some beautiful bird of Paradise and dipped in the eyes of a rainbow, that we might fittingly describe the beautiful marriage scene enacted at the residence of Mrs. E. V. Bra-well, 401 St. Anthony street, Ala., on the evening of February 23. Just as the day god, clothed in majesty sublime had withdrawn his galaxy of quivering golden beams from all the earth and wafted a good night kiss to the young evening, who was fast approaching with her cloudless brow, mounted by a crown of jeweled stars—it was then that the cords of confidence, hope, and love, binding the hearts of Hiram J. Bruister and Mary Elizabeth Braswell were intently traced upon the scroll of life, the sacred seal of holy matrimony placed thereon.—Palestine visitor.

HOW TO REACH THE PUBLIC.

In the course of a recent lecture in Hartford Conn., on "The Making of a Newspaper," Charles Hopkins Clark, of the Courant said:

"How are you going to get at the public? Mail them circulars and the wastebaskets in 10,000 homes give each a weary yawn, and the circular disappears unread. Call upon the people, explain the merits of your wares? The sign 'Our Busy Day' hangs in business offices; in private houses you must ring the bell. Oftener you are turned away.

"But put a cleverly worded advertisement of these wares in a newspaper that has an established circulation in the city's homes and business houses and see what happens: You couldn't get in there yourself, but your advertisement is there on the breakfast table, in the library, in the parlor, in the sewing room, and when everybody is inquiring for the paper which can't be found it is very likely doing duty on the quiet in the kitchen.

It is all over the house and wanted there. You are not. And, similarly at the business office it is read and re-read, and part of the use of 'This is Our Busy Day' sign is to get a chance to read the papers. And it is interesting to note the advertisement has another than a commercial use. It is printed for business purposes pure and simple, but it is often read as news."

SADLY BUT QUIETLY.

At Cartagena News of Panama Independence There Received.

Colon, Nov. 13.—The steamer Oronico returned here bringing news of General Torres and the Colombian troops she took from here to Cartagena after the proclamation of the republic of Panama. The soldiers behaved well on the voyage. At Cartagena the news of the independence of Panama was received sadly and quietly. Not so at Barranquilla. There the government officials and populace were furious and bitter in their re-primations against Americans. Martial law was proclaimed there immediately.

The Oronico also brought news that 1000 Colombian troops were ready to sail for the isthmus on the Orinoco but the agents of the steamer, obeying instructions, refused to embark them.

ROBBED OF JEWELS.

Mexican Lady Loses Five Thousand Dollars' Worth at New York.

New York, Nov. 13.—Mrs. F. M. Ybarra, a wealthy native of the City of Mexico, and said to be the widow of a member of President Diaz' cabinet, has been robbed of jewels valued at $5000 while on a visit to her son in this city. The family is stopping at a private hotel much frequented by Spaniards. There is no clew to the thieves, the jewelry having been taken from a dresser while its owner was absent.

PARTY PERISHED.

This Is Believed to Have Been the Fate of Hubbard's Expedition.

St. Johns, N. F., Nov. 13.—A mail which has just returned here from Labrador brings no news of the expedition to explore the interior of Labrador, headed by Leonidas Hubbard, Jr., of New York, assistant editor of Outing. All settlers believe the party perished. A tribe of Montagnais Indians, who have been trapping in the interior recently, visited the coast and say they saw nothing of the Hubbard expedition, although the Indians went 150 miles inland.

HAD AN ENCOUNTER.

Russian and Chinese Soldiers Clashed in Manchurian Province.

Tien Tsin, Nov. 13.—It is reported here that Russian troops marching toward Shan-Hai-Ewan encountered a force of imperial Chinese troops and fighting ensued, the Russians, it is asserted, pretending that the imperial force was a band of Chinese robbers. Altogether over 10,000 imperial troops have crossed the frontier into Manchuria.

CITY COUNCIL.

The council met in regular session last night Mayor Pro Tem. Howell presiding and all officers present except Mayor Harrison.

The finance committee and Alderman Stevenson instructed to settle with M. E. Wallace for his street sprinkling apparatus at three-fourths value, according to agreement.

Routine business was disposed of in the usual way.

The light committee reported a modification of contract with the water and light company involving a saving of $50 per month, one-half the cost of the arc lights on Main street, by cutting out two of said lights and not burning the other three on moonlight nights unless cloudy or raining. Incandescent street lights will be burned regularly as usual, and three arc lights on all dark nights, effective from Nov. 1.

Council ratified the committee's action.

An ordinance was adopted requiring all butchers and meat dealers retailing meats from markets to pay an occupation tax of $2.50 per month, and all persons peddling meats from wagons $5.00 per month. Persons selling whole hogs, beef quarters and fish from wagons are not liable for said occupation tax.

The report of the Civil Court of Appeals, First district, in yesterday's Galveston News contained the following: "Reversed and rendered: Hattie C. Harbers et al vs. Samuel Levy et al from Brazos county."

This suit involves the home of Mrs. Harbers in Bryan. Judgement was rendered for Levy et al in the district court. As indicated the higher court has reversed and rendered for Mrs. Harbers et al.

The Eagle was informed yesterday by Prof. F. R. Marshall, associate professor of animal husbandry, of the A. & M. College, that he will bring his students in stock judging to the hog show next Saturday, to give them the opportunity of studying the merits of the different animals on exhibition. Prof. Marshall is to judge the swine for the award of the Eagle's prizes.

"OPEN SHOP" POLICY.

Sharp Discussion Followed and Matter Was Finally Recommended.

Boston, Nov. 13.—Resolutions were introduced in the American Federation of Labor convention to the effect that the "so-called open shop policy," whether under private or government management, cannot be recognized by organized labor. The preamble indicated that the resolutions were based upon the Miller case, growing out of trouble in the government printing office at Washington and President Roosevelt's decision in the matter.

The committee on resolutions reported the resolution recommending that the matter be referred to the committee on the councils' reports. A sharp discussion began at once. A motion was made (and later withdrawn) that the resolution be taken up by the convention as a committee of the whole. Forest V. Duncan of Washington advocated the acceptance of the committee report. Delegate Barnes of Philadelphia, president of the Cigar Makers' International union, said that President Roosevelt's decision that the open shop must be maintained in all cases of federal employment was a slap in the face, for laboring people. It was recommended to resolutions committee.

MUST STAND.

All the Daughters Should Rise While "Dixie" Is Being Rendered.

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 13.—In the Daughters of the Confederacy convention Thursday, Chaplain J. W. Jones said nearly $200,000 had been raised for the battle abbey.

The report of the historical committee declared that while the schools of the south until a few years ago used biased histories covering the period of the war between the states, the states of Alabama, Louisiana, Texas, South Carolina and Florida are now using unbiased text books; the states of Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri and Arkansas were divided in this respect and other states were being worked upon with great hopes of ultimate success. The constant aim and object of the committee is for "the truth of history." Reports from various points show that the study of southern history is being encouraged in southern schools.

Upon motion it was made imperative that all Daughters of the Confederacy who, either in the assembly for business or pleasure, shall rise to their feet when "Dixie" was played and remain standing until the song was finished.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Intimation of prosecution for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law was given at Thursday's session of the interstate commerce commission when Commissioner Prouty and Attorney Cowan in their inquiry as to the increase of freight rates to Texas common points pressed some of the officers of southwestern lines for an explanation of the uniformity of some of the southwestern lines.

Writes "Farmer" Shaw That He Is Not a Candidate For Any Office.

Dallas, Nov. 13.—In a letter to Hon. W. A. ("Farmer") Shaw former Governor Hogg says he is not now and never again expects to be a candidate for office. If, however, he should decide to reconsider and seek some elective position he will give the public two months' notice. In his epistle, which is to appear in full in Mr. Shaw's paper, Texas Farmer, the ex-executive says few people can understand why a man should make political speeches without ambition to hold public office. Mr. Hogg says service to the state should not end when one retires from office, and that it has always been his desire to render good service "as long as duty to my native state demands it."

The commission then took up the proposition of express classification, which, if adopted, will practically turn the railroads into express companies. The proposition is being stubbornly fought by railroads and express companies and it adopted will be taken as far as the United States supreme court.

LETTER WRITING.

Its Decline as an Art Caused by the Modern Newspaper. The wonderful development of the newspaper may be looked upon as a very potent factor in the decline of letter writing as an art. The letter no longer can be regarded as primarily the carrier of news. The expression of one's opinion about great contemporary events is indeed still left to the letter, but how much of an incentive to friendly correspondence is lost by the fact that every part of the world knows of important happenings almost simultaneously is not to be lightly estimated, says Gunton's Magazine. The stimulus to writing that comes from having "news" to impart is done away with and it is not always that even the gifted letter writer can afford to lose that incentive. It is only the correspondent of excellence who knows how to attain the perfection of his art by writing delightfully of nothing, if indeed that may be called nothing which affords him a means for the employment of his delicate perceptions. For the saving quality of the genuine letter is in the ability of its author to put himself into it. If he writes about trivial things he does it with a grace of interest that disguises the triviality. He must not make his little fishes talk like whales, but he should, as Goldsmith himself knew how to do, make his letters of perpetual interest because of the aptness of their style to the simplicity of their thought.

The Delights of Nudity.

I cling to that perhaps fanciful theory that no primitive instinct of man is altogether lost. It is modified, amplified, refined; that is all. With all our culture we are barbarians still. Man is a clothed savage. And now and again he delights in doffing the clothing and returning heartily to savagery. How delightful the feel of the briny breeze and the bolsterous wave on the bare pelt! Mr. Edward Carpenter rails at the, I think, eleven layers of clothing that intervene between our skins and the airs of heaven. Walt Whitman reveled in his nude sun bath. What a treat, too, sometimes to get away from the multicoursed dinner and to bite downright audibly into simple food in the fresh air and to lap water noisily from the brook! Well, walking perhaps is the primal instinct, ancient as Eden, where the Lord God walked in the garden in the cool of the day. And if my theory is correct walking will persist till in recovered paradise man walks with his Maker again. No mechanical contrivance for locomotion will extirpate the tribe of tourists, of those who walk from love of walking.—Arnold Haultain in Atlantic.

Such Birds Come High.

There used to be in a store on Ninth avenue, New York, a very valuable canary whose owner and teacher, the wife of the German proprietor, refused an offer of $500 for it. Sometimes as one entered the place there came from a corner in the rear a liquid peal of music so sweet and high and clear that it sounded like a piccolo without the metallic shrillness of that instrument. In a small wicker cage a black and yellow canary waltzed round and round, never quiet, and as it danced it sang the air of "Lauterbach" from beginning to end without a false quantity, without missing or changing a note. When the solo was finished the bird whisked up to its perch, trilled an improvisation and then began the melody again, breaking off in the middle, warbling a little in self-willed fashion and then finishing the air. It was a beautiful and unique performance.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Smoking In Banks.

In every bank in New York there is a rule against smoking, and it is doubtful if any depositor or visitor ever saw a coil of tobacco smoke drifting through the atmosphere in the big counting houses—that is, no visitor who is excluded from the building promptly when the bank closes. But if the curious could squeeze their way through those closed portals in the afternoon they would be treated to a very different sight.

The rules against smoking in all the big banks of the city apply only during banking hours. After the doors are closed and locked one can transform himself into a human volcano with perfect freedom—and he does. And "he" is legion.—New York Times.

A Personal Bill of Fare.

A squire of Andover once hired a brother of Patrick, who was in his employ. The terms were made with Pat before his brother's arrival, and the following conversation ensued:

Squire—"I'll pay your brother one fifty a day, Patrick."

Patrick (bowing and smiling)—Yis, sor; yis, sor; and will he ate himself or will ye ate him, sor?

The squire thought that Dennis had better eat himself.—Lippincott's.

His Sobriety.

A gentleman who had grave doubts as to a servant's sobriety one day accused him of intemperance and as a test chalked a line across the floor and commanded him to walk along it.

The fellow looked at the line for a bit, then at his employer, and said: "No jokes, now, sir. Which line do you want me to walk on?"

Not Complaining of That.

"Some people say you have more money than brains," said the blunt person.

"I hope so," answered Senator Sorghum. "Most everybody I run across is trying to trade off brains for money."—Washington Star.

Don't Neglect Yourself.

1468 Second Street, LOUISVILLE, KY., April 14, 1903.

I have been weak and sickly for the past four years, caused by irregularity and carelessness regarding the laws of health, but about five months ago my condition became very serious. I had severe backache and suffered a constant dull pain in my head. I spent weary, painful days, and miserable, restless nights. The doctor told me that I must have patience. His medicine did not, however, give me even temporary relief and as I had been told of the curative qualities of Wine of Cardui I decided to try it. I found that it relieved me of pain. As my general health improved my other troubles were gradually diminished and after five weeks' use of the Wine of Cardui I was once more a well and happy woman.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow, banishes headaches, backaches and bearing-down pains. Severe headaches, bearing-down pains, indigestion, loss of appetite and nervousness are symptoms of female weakness and should be given prompt attention. If you are troubled with menstrual irregularities do not let them run on. They will certainly grow into dangerous and chronic troubles. Get a bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin treatment at once.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.
